

Homemade Baby

These tiny tubs can be found in the refrigerated section of many upscale markets and can be frozen at home to extend their shelf life. The brand is known for its pure flavors and complex textures.

Where to find it: Whole Foods Market, Shnucks, Dierbergs, Erewhon Natural Foods Market, Lunardi's

Best for: All stages

What moms said: Babies couldn't get enough of this brand. The Piwi, pears and kiwi mixed with some brown-rice flour, and Squapples, squash and apples, passed the taste test with flying colors. Even the more complex flavors like the Baby Tex Mex, which combines brown rice with black beans, carrots, and Mexican spices, got the stamp of approval. "She wanted to put it on chips!" said the mother of one of our older, more adventurous tasters. Moms loved the frozen-or-refrigerated flexibility of the brand.
