Homemade Baby: Organic Baby Food

Using only seasonal, 100% organic ingredients, Homemade Baby creates delicious dishes for children aged 6 to 24 months. Each dish is individually prepared, slowly kettle-cooked and pureed under a Chef's supervision and delivered fresh to a parent's home the next day. Homemade Baby was founded by a Los Angeles couple who started out preparing homemade meals for their own three daughters. After friends and family began asking for their tasty recipes and for extra batches of food for their own children, they decided to create Homemade Baby. It's a great new solution for busy mothers who don't have the time to prepare fresh, organic baby food themselves but want only the best for their baby.

While there are other organic baby food brands on the market, Homemade Baby is the only brand that is shipped fresh, directly to the consumer from the Homemade Baby kitchen, in a custom-designed refrigerated package. Because Homemade Baby doesn't use any preservatives or additives, the colors are vivid and the flavors are pure, just the way nature intended. The food is sold exclusively online at www.homemadebaby.com for convenience and quality control.
